Thanks and kudos to the organizers of these sessions on ACCOUNTABILITY.

Nisha Singh

Wow, getting chills! Beautiful, Titilope.

Justas Gumbrevicius

Key to have private sector and philanthropies committed to these issues, thank you Naina

Kamlesh Gupta

Our youngest member amongst panelists touched very important point.

Faridah Luyiga

Let's take #BoldActions for all! We need to ensure quality, equity and dignity in healthcare for vulnerable and marginalized communities.

Miriam Lewis Sabin

Excellent ideas from Shannon Hader @UNAIDS on how tracking progress for accountability can be made meaningful.

Philippa Momah

The sessions have been very interesting. Thank you.

sisterjulie22

Thank you all very much, we move forward together!

Arnima Sharma

Great session. Very informative.

Jane Beauty

Reinvesting in health systems is even more critical at a time when COVID threatens the hard-won gains in advancing health of women and children. Interesting session!

What We Enjoyed Most

The diverse perspectives of all panelists.

real talk with Mexico and Nigeria

Varied interactive programme - engagement at all levels and music, poetry, film - we need this when it is online !!

I was very impressed with the involvement of the youth from Shukti to David. Thumbs up the diversity, the truth to power and an around great event congratulations!

I enjoyed the panel on accountability and the panel with Beth Schlachter and the Nairobi Cabinet Secretary. I actually enjoyed the Moderator (Mercy) the most. She did a fabulous job moderating.

youth voices!

Authentic political debate -- as Helga says, "accountability is not meant to be comfortable"

I enjoyed hearing from a diverse set of voices across the global and the Brave Voices, Bold Actions panel. Mercy was an amazing host!

Latin America presence... enjoy it

The amazing global groups, and the poetry. Great moderating by Mercy. And the music at the beginning was terrific
